

Pineapple Connect

Last Updated: 6/29/2026, 4:45:43 PM · 1 minute read

Gautam Yagnik, M.D., Plays Pivotal Role in NHL Team Physician Society

Dr. Yagnik helped organize the annual meeting to discuss player care, injury prevention and best practices in professional hockey.

Orthopedic surgeon Gautam Yagnik, M.D., recently represented Baptist Health Orthopedic Care with his involvement in the NHL Team Physician Society Annual Meeting on Marco Island. Dr. Yagnik, who is head team physician for the Florida Panthers, served on the meeting's program committee and helped organize the two-day educational program, designed to advance player care, injury prevention and best practices in professional hockey. Discussions at the meeting focused on advances in sports medicine and strategies to improve the health and safety of professional hockey players.

The NHL Team Physician Society Annual Meeting brings together leading sports medicine physicians to collaborate on the latest research, clinical innovations and approaches to optimizing athlete health and performance.

